

TPCDT celebrates World Water Day with school students in Dehrand

Tata Power Community Development Trust (TPCDT), has always been at the forefront of conserving resources and spreading awareness to bring about an active change in the attitude of the communities towards resource conservation. In line with this, a drawing competition themed 'Jal Hai To Kal Hai' for the school students was organized in Dherand on the occasion of World Water Day.

The objective of this initiative was to sensitise the school students about the importance of conserving water. The Competition encouraged students to focus on the major issues of water scarcity in the world, and how the same can be resolved. The paintings articulated the knowledge and ideas of children on water conservation. The competition witnessed the participation of more than 200 school students from standard 5th to 9th.

Speaking on the occasion Mr. Ashok Sethi, COO & Executive Director, Tata Power said, "We are delighted by the positive response received from the students for this competition. It is imperative that these young students understand the importance of water conservation and work towards conserving resources for a better tomorrow. Tata Power will continue to organize similar initiatives aimed at addressing the major issues faced by the communities at large."
